THE BISMARCK TRIBUNE'S SPECIAL CORRESPONDENT SAYS.

Squaws Mutilate and Rob the Dead

Victims Captured Alive Tortured in a Most Foul Manner.

What Will Congress Do About It?

Shall This Be the Beginning of the End?

It will be remembered that the Bismarck Tribune sent a special correspondent with Gen. Terry, who was the first professional correspondent with the army in the field. He was the first to see the battle, and he was the first to see the dead. He was the first to see the squaws mutilating the dead, and he was the first to see the victims captured alive and tortured in a most foul manner. He was the first to see what Congress will do about it, and he was the first to see whether this will be the beginning of the end.

Some emptying several chambers of his revolver, each time bringing down a bullet through the air, and he was the first to see the dead. He was the first to see the squaws mutilating the dead, and he was the first to see the victims captured alive and tortured in a most foul manner. He was the first to see what Congress will do about it, and he was the first to see whether this will be the beginning of the end.
