

The treaty of 1835 established terms under which the entire Cherokee Nation ceded its territory in the southeast and agreed to move west to the Indian Territory. Although the treaty was not approved by the Cherokee National Council nor signed by Principal Chief John Ross, it was amended and ratified by the U.S. Senate in March 1836, and became the legal basis for the forcible removal known as the Trail of Tears.

6 5/8" x 8 5/8" Ledger Style
Gouache' painting on document and a Certificate of Authenticity

ORIGINAL PAINTING.....$ 125.00

SHIPPING & HANDLING
IN THE CONTINENTAL U.S.....$ 25.00

TOTAL$ 150.00

DEED FOR LOST LANDS