

2021 NEWSLETTER - October 1, 2021

A year and half into the corona virus pandemic, the enormous changes in our lives have become unremarkable: masks, visits with friends or family only in small outdoor gatherings and a lot more people working from home.

Beginning with the coming of summer and the corona virus vaccinations available, some restrictions were lifted, allowing some return to pre-corona virus normality.

I sold three originals to the Cherokee Nation's Vinita Health Clinic, finished up the remodeling of my studio-home, took a ten day vacation with my daughter/granddaughter, gave some more on-line art instructions, and went to some art shows. Most art shows and gatherings are still canceled or have gone to a virtual on-line format.

I will be doing a one day art show in Catoosa Oklahoma October 16th with my granddaughter, Ashley.

Ashley is a member of the Cherokee Nation and an outstanding student in school. She excels in all her subjects, especially art. She continues to develop her own unique art style, combining what I have taught her, school and her own experimentations.

She has won numerous awards in student art shows and competitions. At the art show she will have open edition prints and limited edition Giclee' on canvas from $10 to $250. Her work can be found in the Cherokee Nation Clinic and Cherokee Gift Shop in Tahlequah, Oklahoma

If you are in the Tulsa/Catoosa area October 16th, come by the Community Center, 105 E Oak St, Fair Oaks Oklahoma and check out our latest work along with 10 to 12 other outstanding artist.
