

Seasons Greetings

CHEROKEE ARTIST IS MOVING

PANORAMIC VIEW FROM NEW STUDIO/RESIDENCE

LOCATION AT LAKE

DECEMBER 2014

JULY 2014

I bought a lot at Lake Tenkiller this summer and with help, the land has been cleared, Studio/Deck and Utility Room set up, electrical access and as soon as sewer and water is connected I will be moving Studio/Residence. My mail is already coming to my new address listed below.

Ron Mitchell - Cherokee Artist
36212 S. Cherokee Drive
Park Hill, OK 74451
Phone: 918 - 264 - 7514

Ron & Granddaughter at Ice Show

"BLACK GOLD"

Original Gouache painting on 1897 Map purchased by the Cherokee Nation for the Cooweescoowee Health Center.

1897 marked the beginning of Oklahoma's petroleum industry when the first commercial oil well was drilled in Indian Territory (I.T.). George B. Keeler, who had come to I.T. in 1871 to work at Chouteau's trading post near Bartlesville in 1875. After Keeler and William Johnstone opened a trading post on the south bank, they decided to have a well drilled to boost economic conditions in the area. They and another early settler, Frank Overlees, obtained a lease from the Cherokee Nation and hired the Cudahy Oil Company to drill the well.

"Cherokee Bomber Jacket"

Recently I accidentally spilled some paint on my good leather jacket.....and I almost threw it away.

Reviewing new leather jackets on line, I saw some WWII "painted" bomber jackets and I saved my jacket by painting a "Cherokee Theme" on the back, as viewed above.

See Ron's originals, prints and show schedule at www.cherokeeartist.net

To remove your name from our mailing list please click here or if you have questions or comments E-mail or call us at 918-264-7514.