

Ron Mitchell's CHEROKEE ARTIST NEWSLETTER

www.cherokeeartist.net

OCTOBER-NOVEMBER-DECEMBER 2013

NEW PAINTINGS FOR VETERANS CENTER

"Welcome Home" 26" x 30"

"Cherokee Warriors, Fallen Heroes" 30" x 40"

"Defenders Of Freedom" 20" x 24"

"Cherokee Freedom Fighters" 16" x 20"

"Cherokee Braves" 16" x 20"

"Freedom Isn't Free" 20" x 24"

TAHLEQUAH, OKLA. - Cherokee Nation officials purchased 6 paintings from Ron Mitchell to become part of a permanent collection in the Cherokee Nation Veterans Center, which is nearing completion.

The 7,700 square-foot Veterans Center will be a permanent home that recognizes the commitment of our brave servicemen and women. A sacred place where personal histories can intermingle with our tribal and our country's history.

2013 CHEROKEE ART MARKET

November 2013 - Cherokee Phoenix Newspaper

BY WILL CHAVEZ, Senior Reporter

CATOOSA, OK. - The close proximity of the annual Cherokee Art market allows local Cherokee artists to compete for prize money, show their art and hopefully sell some of it.

This year, more than 150 Native American artist representing more than 45 tribes attended the event and competed for $75,000 in prize money. Artist competed in 20 categories that included beadwork, pottery, painting, basketry, sculptures and textiles.

Ron Mitchell of Wagonsy, (featured on the front page), is a artist who has attended art shows for 42 years. He stocked his booth at the market with paintings, including styles in his latest interest called contemporary ledger style where he adds items such as a historic Cherokee phoenix newspaper or Cherokee maps into the painting.

Another year is coming to an end and in a few weeks I will celebrate my 70th Birthday. Forty-two of those years I have been creating and selling my art at galleries, museums, shows and shops around the world.

Despite cutting my show schedule by 70%, I am still keeping busy with my art. Since my last show in October, I finished the 6 paintings for the Veterans Center and started working on this long over-due newsletter. Tomorrow I start another project due before Christmas.

2014 I look forward to finishing the WWII graphic novel, working on new drawings, paintings and starting my new sculpture projects.

Till the next time..... Ron Mitchell

See Ron's originals, prints and show schedule at www.cherokeeartist.net

To remove your name from our mailing list please click here or if you have questions or comments E-mail or call us at 918-261-9784